

Message from the Governor of the Bank of Thailand

In 1982, the Bank of Thailand was honored to host the signing ceremony for the Agreement on the SEACEN Research and Training Centre in Bangkok. This year, the Bank of Thailand is once again proud to have the honor to host another notable event, namely the Celebration of the Silver Anniversary of the SEACEN Centre.

I, therefore, would like to join my colleagues at the Bank of Thailand in extending our congratulations to the SEACEN Centre on this auspicious occasion. Over the past 25 years, the SEACEN Centre has not only facilitated the fruitful and mutual exchange of experiences and information among members, but has also served as a circle of good friends and family. The SEACEN Centre has thus played an instrumental role in enhancing understanding of key policy issues and fostering closer cooperation in the region.

I wish the SEACEN Centre continued success in its vision to be a premier regional training center.
