SEACEN Publishes 2 New Working Papers

(WP10/2015) Challenges for Inflation Targeting
By Delano S. Vilanueva

This paper raises a very important question for inflation targeting (IT) central banks. Given the multiple objectives, should financial stability be an implicit objective of IT?

(WP11/2015) Capital Market Development and Emergence of Institutional Investors in the Asia-Pacific Region
By Hans Genberg

Bank credit is traditionally the largest source of finance in the Asia-Pacific region, but the role of capital markets has increased over time. There is substantial heterogeneity across countries, however. Institutional investors tend to have long investment horizons and as such contribute to the stability of the local market. It may therefore be appropriate to explore ways to increase their presence in the domestic bond and equity markets.
